WM. VOGEL & SON.

The Wide Scope of

Our "Concave" Shoulder.

The innovation of our "Concave" shoulder marked a decided and potent departure from the ordinary method of clothes-making. At first it was in the nature of an experiment. Now it's a success. Since the time of its introduction we have broadened the scope of our "Concave" shoulder and "Closefitting" collar. We have it for the boy wearing his first long trouser suit (suits for him as low as $10); the college man, whose critical taste is satisfied by only the best of clothes, and the business man. Our "Concave" shoulder has met the demand for a shoulder of grace and breadth and style. The shape of it is obtained in the modeling of the garment—and it is there

MERCER SHOWS A FAST HALF MILE

GRAVESEND, Nov. 4.—The galloping hours were agreeable ones this morn-ing, the track remaining in the same grand condition it has been for the past

The feature of the morning's exerse was a smart gallop by Mercer of Prospect Stable's string. He was sent a half-mile, negotiating the dis-tance in 492-5 seconds.

Leeds racer Hursthourne sent a mile and an eighth in 2.01. Knight Errant, Sherod and Major Dongerfield were allowed a strong galiop of two Bill Daly's racer Daly, efter a long let up, was shown on the course, and a quarter through the stretch in 20 4-5 seconds. This horse is being pointed for the Washington meeting, where he was so successful last spring. Carroli D. and Vartray stepped three-quarters in 1.20.

and variray stepped three-quarters in 1.20.

Featherstone's Hymettus and Peeper were allowed a six-furiong gallop in 1.25 1-2.

Graham's Judge Phillips with the trainer in the saddle, worked a mile at a two-minute clip. Beggar Lady and Col. Roarst, of the same string, breezed twice around the course.

Trainer Taylor had McChesney on the course and sent him to the same variety of exercise.

Burlew's Twin Rose worked five-eighths of a mile in 1.69 1-2; Charles El-wood stepped six furiongs in 1.31 and Lady Rohesia turned five furions in 1.11.

NEW RIVAL TO TENNIS.

Played in London.

The newest outdoor same in England is called by the somewhat euphonious name of tambourello. It derives this name from the instrument of play, that in place of a racket a tambourine will readily understand.

But this difference is a big one, as hybody who has ever played lawn tensive will readily understand.

BACHELORS FINED

have arrived at the proper age of taking a wife when he is twenty years of age. have arrived at the proper age of teams a wife when he is twenty years of age, says the Scottish American. The man who does not marry at twenty is fined £1 a month for every menth he remains unmarried until he is thirty; then the line is £2 a month until he is thirty-five, when it is increased to £4 a month, and the fine remains at that age for fifteen years. If at fifty the man is found an incorrigible bachelor, he has to pay £8 a month and continue to do so until he is seventy-five, should he live so long. After that age the State realizes that his value in the marriage market is limited, and he is fined only £4 a year, and even that payment ceases should he live to be eighty

Even if a man has married and has the mistoriune to be a widower, the State of Argentina still declares that he must not remain wedded to his wife's memory longer than three years—or he must pay for the privilege. The only condition under which a man is exempt from the fine is if he has proposed three times in a year and been refused each time. That, however, would be such a sad confession of lack of charm on the part of the man that he would not, perhaps, be likely to admit it.
